

Sharing our passion for all things automotive for 35 years...

We love cars. We love bikes. In fact, we love everything automotive, and a host of things besides. Keen to share our enthusiasm with like-minded people everywhere, we create books covering every area, aspect, and interest in the motoring world.

We have a simple philosophy: our mission is to provide books of the highest quality in terms of content, accuracy, design, subject range to discerning automotive enthusiasts the world over.

We can do this because we count some of the most respected, admired, and knowledgeable names from the worlds of motorsports, journalism and manufacture amongst our authors. Combine this with the cutting-edge literary, production, and design skills from our staff – the Velocisti – and we think we have a winning combination.
